Dear Parents We always believe children prosper best in school, supported by teachers who know how to make the most of their individual learning journey. Unfortunately, the uncertainties created by the coronavirus have compelled schools to close temporarily. School closing earlier than expected, does mean a loss of learning momentum for children. We, at SMRJ, would like to extend some solutions to support our students through this period of disruption to enable you to carry out your mission of helping kids to learn online. This virtual learning can be a valuable resource for children during this disruptive time. We are starting our online classes from Monday,23.03.2020. So you are requested to purchase bookset, so that students can be taught/shared the study material through E.Mail/ERP/broadcast. We hope this program will help children continue their learning journey, even while at home. Book store will be operational from Monday

Dear Parents The book store will be closed till saturday(21/03/2020). Inconvenience regretted. Thanks
